Medfly' No Threat To Area Produce Movement

BELLE GLADE — "I see no danger whatsoever in the movement of Glades produce to market," H. L. Speer, assistant county agent, assured GLADES OBSERVER yesterday in commenting on the discovery of the dreaded Mediterranean fruit fly in the Loxahatchee citrus area earlier this week.

The fly does not grow in fields of string beans, celery and corn, and does not infest this produce, he said.

VEG. GROWERS AT FIELD DAY

BELLE GLADE — Annual Vegetable Growers Field Day at Everglades Experiment Station drew 80 persons at an all-day session yesterday.

John H. Causey, assistant county agent, was master of ceremonies. Dr. R. S. Cox of the station staff introduced fellow staff members who gave research reports on a number of topics.

A luncheon was held at Belle Glade Country Club, after which tours were conducted through station experimental fields.

COUNCIL OK'S SHOPPING CTR.

PAHOKEE — City Council Monday night okayed a five-year tax-exemption for a proposed modern, airconditioned shopping center to be located in downtown Pahokee.

A letter from Joseph Kahn asked the exemption as empowered by city ordinance for a shopping center to be located in downtown Pahokee.

Be a new service to the community, bring in new income to other businesses as shoppers come to town to visit the new center, be an improvement of the proposed site at Bacon Pl. Rd. and Hardin Ave. provide an additional local payroll, and bring in new tax revenue after the expiration of the exemption.

John H. Causey, assistant county agent, was master of ceremonies. Dr. R. S. Cox of the station staff introduced fellow staff members who gave research reports on a number of topics.

Present were Councilmen Loren Meredith, George H. Tucker, Jr., and Hattion. Councilman-Elect Edgar Wilder was not present for the meeting.

Navy Chief Tillman Discusses Glades Low Youth Enlistment Record

"Military service" seems to have the same connotation in many Glades young men's minds as "going to the dentist," but when they've done either, they discover the good accomplished outweighs the bad, says a man who should know.

He was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs hit on Dec. 7, 1941, won two Air Medals, a citation, and a commendation in World War II, and served in the Korean conflict—and he's still on the military's side.

For 16 years, John A. Tillman, ADC, U. S. Navy, has been in the Navy and seen the world—becoming a family man with three children meanwhile—and he is now the Navy's recruiter in the Glades.

OBSERVER went to Tillman to ask why Glades enlistments in the services at all branches are below the national average, why so many local men prefer to hold out until drafted instead of taking the choosier way of volunteering.

Chief Tillman said that first and foremost was that feeling among many young men that "military" means tough discipline, a painful experience (the going-to-the-dentist angle), and something to be put off at all costs. "The switchover from civilian to military life is not as abrupt as they picture it," Chief Tillman said, "it is more accurately like moving from one town to another and establishing yourself."

Military life in 1956 is the building of teams and units, a matter of one buddy depending upon another in the now highly-specialized military practices which call for teamwork, he

To aid in helping combat the "Medfly" menace a crew of men from the county agent's office and the State Plant Board have set out Medfly traps throughout the Glades area, Speer said. Since the flies infest citrus mostly, Glades traps have been put around homes which have mixed citrus groves.

Speer predicted much less confusion and crop loss to Florida interests in the current season, as compared with the Medfly epidemic of 1929-30. Close work with the United States Department of Agriculture will possibly prevent an embargo against Florida citrus, he predicted.

Most citrus can be shipped safely over the current season, he suggested, if proper fumigation procedures are followed.

The mushrooming Medfly station has resulted in a flurry of calls to his office from people suspecting they've seen the pest. Speer said. From telephone descriptions he determined two cases were merely common "horseflies" and the remainder were identifiable, with none of them being Medflies.

Meanwhile, at the vegetable growers field day at the Experimental Station yesterday, several Medfly questions were directed to John Causey, assistant county agent, who detected the fly at Loxahatchee on Monday.

Belle Glade Has "Muck Buck" To Out-Match Texan Big Chatter

BELLE GLADE — Not to be outdone by Texans, who have a reputation for "talking big," the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce has improved a gimmick borrowed from the Lone Star state to attract the eyes of tourists.

As a result, Belle Glade was flooded this week with giant-size "100 Belle Glade Bucks," as zany a bit of civic promotion as you'll find anywhere.

The "paper money" measures 15 inches long by 5 inches deep and has been distributed to city restaurants, hotels, hotels and service stations to give away to tourists.

Mrs. Edwin Young, chamber secretary, was responsible for designing the outlandish "buck" and had herself a dizzy time dreaming up catchy words and phrases for it.

Maybe you'll need a cryptologist to decipher this, but the "buck" has this inscription: Rx 4 XTC In Florida — This bill is not legal tender, but is intended to take the world on the wonders of Belle Glade in the Sunshine State of Florida.

It also features the warning that "This bill is based on facts — only the cash value has been eliminated to protect the innocent."

If you're an anagram addict, here are some other Belle Glade Buck puzzlers: "Come 2 Florida"

Among those he listed were "Learn to love your work or change your job. Don't take seriously what people say about you. Be yourself but be your better self. Keep out of other people's business. Be a miser or a spendthrift. Be thankful for health and everything that comes your way."

No Bull! "Lost Dogies" At Glades Livestock Market; Monday Sales Up

BELLE GLADE — Despite its new once-a-week sale policy, Glades Livestock Market chalked up heavy sales of beef cattle at the Monday auction.

Monday's volume was 1,173 cattle bringing a total of $87,754.40, according to George C. Young, manager. Demand shot up as slaughter steers, placement heifers and calves—ward 50 cents per cwt.

Proof that "all roads lead to Glades Livestock Market" was evident with the presence of two loads of cattle for which drivers, left no instructions and got no receipts.

Consequently, the two loads

Former Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona told the president's traffic safety committee in Miami this week that "the chances are that some member of your family will be injured this year, about one in 33; the chances you will be involved in a traffic accident are at least one in seven." Now take a second look at the Glades' latest accident picture on Page One.

Reading about the non-swimming mother and father in Illinois who had to stand by helplessly as their three sons, aged 10, 13, and 17 years drowned in a pond, we are reminded that summer is here. With it is the water sports season — and there's no time like now for parents to see that Junior gets his first lessons in swimming.

STEVENS — KEFAUVER: How will this one come out? Since the government has been decided without a run-off, the election on the 29th has lost its biggest attraction. Will either side be more inclined to stay at home than the other? Or will it average out the same for each one? Adlai's folks are confident, because of their state of outstanding delegates, and the issue of segregation which has been to enter the picture.

Their spirits hit a new high when the executive secretary of the NAACP criticized Adlai Stevenson for his recent statement urging gradual integration in the South. The NAACP official, Roy Wilkins, said Stevenson told a Negro assembly in Los Angeles "to accommodate themselves to gradual enjoyment of their citizenship."

STRICTER QUARTENINE: Criticism of the customs service was voiced by Senator Holland when he first heard about the new outbreak of the Medfly. On numerous occasions he has called on customs to do a better job of inspecting baggage coming into Florida. Instead of a spot check, he has always wanted thorough checks.

Now, like locking the door after the horse has been stolen, the customs people are adding 10 new men to the Miami detail to inspect all incoming baggage — both by air and by ship. Also expected within the next few days is a Federal quarantine on Florida fruit. This quarantine was asked by a delegation from Florida, industry men, state officials, growers, packers, shippers. Point is that if a quarantine is set up, the fruit that is certified as being pest-free won't be stopped by other states.

96 Qts. Peas For School

LAKE HARBOR — A group of ladies met at the school on Thursday and shelled blackeye peas. They put 96 quarts in the deep freeze. They plan to meet Tuesday to can beans. Each year they can approximately 500 quarts for the school cafeteria.

Doc Nurses a Daydream

It's a treat when I get together with Doc Sherman. The Clarion keeps me much too busy — and Doc, well I think he puts in sixteen hours a day at the hospital.

But Tuesday — a beautiful day — he and I slipped away for a ride around Turtle Lake. Doc's driving a 1956 humdinger — it's like riding on a cloud.

Anyway, at one point Doc slowed almost to a halt. "Used to fish there as a boy, Joe," he said. "Used to sit and imagine myself up on the highway driving a high-powered car. Nowadays, I just sit here and wish I were down there again."

From where I sit, few of us are ever content with the way things are at any given moment. It's human nature. On the other hand, I've been rooting for years that some everybody will show enough good American tolerance to respect his neighbor's right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. What that day comes I assure you I'll never want to change back.

ALCOHOLISM

Medically, alcoholism is the condition of being unable to control its victims being known as alcoholics. Until very recently they were considered immoral, weak-willed or obstinate.

Physicians approach the problem differently. They realize there is no point in urging the use of will power alone because a real alcoholic is unable to control his drinking. He drinks because he feels compelled.

Drinking in moderation is completely impossible even though the drinker may be aware he is harming himself physically and mentally. Modern treatment is aimed at helping such alcoholics deal with their problem without the use of alcohol at all.

Medical science is not yet able to explain why some people become alcoholics and others do not. The alcoholic may possess some unknown physical differences from other people. But even though no specific cure has yet been found, great strides have been made in helping many alcoholics recover.

Many authorities believe the alcoholic to be a person with uncontrolled personality difficulties. At the root of much problem drinking seems to be the inability to adjust satisfactorily to life. Many alcoholics drink in an attempt to solve some problem which they themselves may not clearly recognize. Many feel unwanted, unloved, unsuccessful, angry and fearful.

Certain new drugs have been developed which may mean the patient away from alcohol. These drugs produce nausea and vomiting, which can be timed to coincide with alcoholic intake, thus associating discomfort and distress with the taking of a drink. Repeating the procedure induces nausea even at the thought of a drink. Such drugs and others which are being developed cannot be given without the full cooperation of the patient and must be taken only under very careful medical supervision.

Cattlemen: More Meat Needed For More People

By Agricultural News Service
Florida is a meat-producing state, and so the present as well as the future for meat is of wide-spread interest here. Those who keep tab on prospects foresee an increasing demand for meat as the country's population continues to grow.

In 1955 our population reached 185,000,000, a 29% increase over the average for the pre-World War II years of 1935-39.

During the same period, per capita consumption of meat also increased 29%, going up from the 1935-39 average of 125 pounds to 161 pounds.

According to the National Livestock and Meat Board, meat production reached a new all-time high of 27 billion pounds in 1955, a 6% increase over the average output for 1935-39.

The problem has been one of keeping consumption of meat in line with production of meat. We have been succeeding in this job, since the figures relating to cold storage holdings of meat indicate definitely that current abundant supplies of meat are being eaten. They are not piling up in storage.

This is due in large part to the intensive meat production and advertising campaigns conducted cooperatively by all branches of the livestock and meat industry in one of the greatest self-help programs this nation has ever witnessed.

But in the future, the problem will actually be one of producing enough meat for the increasing population. The Meat Board predicts that it will take 38.3 billion pounds of meat to feed the people of America in 1975.

This means that an increase in per capita consumption of meat of only four percent by 1975 will require an increase of meat production of 42% over 1955, because of the tremendous increase in population.

Proud "Lake Okeechobeeans" are Mrs. Elmer Upthegrove, Reed, Jr., Janet, Geraldine, "Aunt Jodee" and "Babs" as they prepared for grand opening of new Upthegrove Super Market.

Upthegroves Open New Super Store; --Pioneer Lake Okeechobee Family

The Upthegrove family of Pahokee — identified closely with life on Lake Okeechobee for nearly half a century—observes another historical event this weekend with the grand opening of Elmer "Babs" Upthegrove's new super market on Canal Point Rd.

The new market, which "Babs" proudly describes as "the only complete self-service supermarket in the Glades north of Belle Glade," is tangible evidence that the Upthegroves have met successfully challenges life has had to offer in the Lake Okeechobee area, and have kept abreast with growth and progress in the Glades.

Cian Upthegrove arrived on Lake Okeechobee in 1910, when "Aunt Jodee" — still active in the store despite her 74 years—along with her husband and Babs' father Ed settled at Bare Beach after moving from Alachua County in northern Florida.

The brothers became proficient fishermen and they and their progeny proceeded to make various parts of Lake Okeechobee their home at one time or another. So much so that, had the family settled on the lake perhaps half a century earlier the big lake well might have become known as "Lake Upthegrove."

Babs was born in 1917 at "Upthegrove Beach," a settlement which still exists on the north-eastern shore of the lake, between Port Mayaca and Okeechobee. He moved with his parents to Pahokee in 1921. His father fished for catfish in the lake and environs, along with such stalwart fishermen as Charles H. Stuckey, who still lives in Pahokee.

Some of the best catfishin' was to be found in the "dead river" which meandered around from a point roughly across the street where Babs' store is, to the area where the ice plant now is on the old Belle Glade road. The fish were hauled in an iced vat on a big broad-as-a-tug "run boat" to Okeechobee, where it was shipped by rail to northern and western markets.

Babs helped his uncle, J. H. haul lumber from Ft. Myers in 1931 when the latter built his grocery on Canal Point Rd. This frame structure still stands and serves as the front portion of the new store. Plans now call for its razing next year when a CBS addition will be made to the store's new building.

Following civilian construction work during World War II, Babs started working in the grocery in 1946 and subsequently took it over. The $15,000 present expansion of the store is 2,000 sq. ft., making a total of 3,700 sq. ft. in expansion. Next year's planned expansion will add another 2,500 sq. ft.

The new supermarket feabeen augmented to handle the increased volume of business. Still operating as chief cashier is Babs' wife, Marie, and at another check-out counter will be his sister, Mrs. Delores Davis. Brother-in-law Fred Postell, Mrs. Gertrude Pierce, Mrs. J.M. Gresham and T. L. Musselwhite (a "retired" butcher from Okeechobee) and Aunt Jodee complete the staff.

Only thing missing from grand opening activities is the type of spiritual songfest made famous by the Upthegroves as a family unit. Babs' brothers and sisters, who formerly sang as a group, are: Osceola, postmaster at Canal Point for 25 years; Sheldon, a Church of God evangelist now living in West Palm Beach; Mrs. Lillie Chance, Pahokee; Mrs. Dorothy Postell, Clewiston; Mrs. Thelma Swindie, Clewiston; Mrs. Edna Griggs, Stuart; and Mrs. Delores Davis, Pahokee.

Babs, Sheldon and Osceola still sing in the famous Upthegrove Quartet, with vocal aid from "Buzz" Walker, Belle Glade, accompanied by Junior Martin, Belle Glade.

Reflecting back on the "old days" and the area's progress, Babs is a bit inclined to pinch himself to be sure today's cities are reality. "This used to be 'dead looking' country," Babs says, "if anyone had told me in the early days that it would become civilized, I'd have thought them to be daffy."

KENNETH WILLIAMSON ON SUMMER SCOUT STAFF

CANAL POINT — Eagle Scout Kenneth Williamson has been selected by Gulfstream Scout Council as an instructor to work with Mike Webb and the other staff of the GSC summer camp at Lake Osborne for the entire five-week session starting June 17.

Kenneth is a member of Pahokee Boy Scout Troop 28, which plans to attend the camp during the second week of the session. He will work with Blair Littlejohn teaching camping techniques and will serve as song leader and guitar accompanist in camp activities.

NAVY CHIEF

ready in national defense, Chief Tillman points out.

Two additional reasons for the lack of Glades volunteers — and, actually, the chief is interested in the Navy first and foremost — is that much of the best material plans on college careers. On the other hand, he reported, many young men who quit high school before graduation fall the screening tests when they try to get into the service. "Insufficient education, especially now that the enlisted man's job on aircraft and ships is highly technical, is being reflected," he said.

The starting pay alone in the Navy is the equivalent of a $50 a week job, he noted, at $78 per month cash plus room, board, medical and dental services, clothes, and transportation furnished. After four months the recruit goes to $99 a month—and he gets an increase in pay every two years according to his rating after that.

Navy age minimum is 17, maximum 30 years of age not to include the 31st birthday, and if a man is a high school graduate he is guaranteed a school training him in hospital, aviation, electronics, or seaman-ship fields.

The chief, who enlisted in Cleveland, O., said that he wouldn't exchange the civilian experience he had before enlisting for the advancement, education, and travel he has had in his 16 years of Navy service.

And like any budget-conscious husband, he noted that his family's experience was widened far beyond the means they would have for travel in civilian life. Two of his children were born in the U.S. — one in Cleveland, one in Kentucky — and then his family traveled in ocean-liner style to Japan, where his youngest was born.

Solution to cure the reluctance of young men to volunteer into the service? Chief Tillman hasn't one handy, he says, but he offers his own experience as a testimonial.

With completion of the 85-mile long levee around the Eastern and southern shores of Lake Okeechobee in 1937, the whims of nature which had made the lake an enigma to the efforts of man, were conquered. The levee project took 10 years, cost the federal government $19,000,000.

Harnessing the lake and building from it the vast network of flood control drainage/irrigation ditches has treated the fabulously rich Everglades farm country, which produces winter vegetables, sugar cane and beef cattle for the nation.

Development of Okeechobee-land was slow and latent, for the simple reason that man was handicapped in exploring its once-upon-a-time marshlands and jungle. Not until 1837 did its existence become generally known to the white man. And not until another score of years had passed did its exact dimensions become known.

Slowly but surely Lake Okeechobee succumbed to the coming of white civilization. In 1883 a large two-deck woodburning steamboat drawing three feet of water was brought down the Ohio and Mississippi River, and via the Gulf of Mexico to Ft. Myers. After 43 more days it plied the Caloosahatchee River, Lake Okeechobee and the Kissim-

Boating is placid and serene on the peaceful waters of Lake Okeechobee, which is 35 miles by 32 miles.

Seminoles Gave Lake Apt Name: 'Big Water'

"Okeechobee" is a Seminole word meaning "big water." Indeed, Lake Okeechobee is "big water," for its 730 square mile area makes it the second largest fresh water lake in the United States (Lake Michigan is largest).

"Okeechobee-land" — the area comprising the lake and its environs — was one of the first areas to be discovered in what is now the U.S., when Ponce de Leon, De Soto and other Spanish adventurers explored Florida.

Yet the now-rich agricultural terrains around the lake constituted one of the last "undiscovered" pioneer land areas in the nation. It has been the last great area to be developed.

And how it has developed!

LAKE HAS FINE CAMPS

Finest fishing in the world awaits anglers plying the peaceful waters of Lake Okeechobee. Famous for its black bass, the lake also offers many species of other gamefish, including speckled perch, bream, and occasional snook and tarpon, refugees from salt water areas.

Fishing camps around the lake enjoy a year-round business, and Izaak Walton's from all over the nation have found Lake Okeechobee a haven, indeed, for extended vacations, for weekend outings and for by-the-hour fishing.

Easy accessibility by modern

highways attracts fishermen from Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, West Palm Beach, Ft. Myers, Sarasota and Tampa, as well as visitors down from Yankeeeland. Principal camps around the gigantic lake are:

CALUSA LODGE — 17 miles north of Moore Haven on Hwy. 78. Most exclusive hunting and fishing lodge on the lake. Full restaurant and cocktail lounge facilities. Lodge atmosphere heightened with display of scores of black bass mounted by co-owner Joseph Reese, Ft. Lauderdale taxidermist. Not unusual for sportsmen to get limit of fish and game birds within hours, in season.

JOE'S CAMP — Hunting and fishing mecca operated by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Van De Velde. Modern individual cabins finished with knotty pine interiors, modern kitchens. Restaurant and grocery facilities. Specializes in handling family groups.

CITY OF PAHOKEE

The Winter Vegetable Capital Of America
— PAHOKEE, FLORIDA

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the City of Pahokee, I most heartily invite and welcome you to the 2-day dedication celebration of our new Pahokee Harbor Breakwater.

Whether you reside in communities around Lake Oke-chobee, elsewhere in Florida, or are a visitor from northern climes, I hope you will avail yourself of the water sports activities made possible by creation of Pahokee Harbor, and become a confirmed convert to recreation in "Okeechobeeland."

With abiding faith in the continuing progress of the Glades, the City of Pahokee has seen fit to indebt itself in the approximate amount of $200,000 to establish an adequate Harbor with a modern breakwater for use by its businesses, citizens and friends. We feel it is significant that this Harbor is the first protected harbor in history to be established on the Lake. We urge you to feel free to utilize it.

PRIMARY GOAL OF THE PLANNERS OF PAHOKEE

USE. WE INVITE YOUR INQUIRIES AS TO HOW YOUR COM-PANY CAN PROFIT FROM USE OF OUR HARBOR.

Whether your interests are commercial or personal, the citizens of Pahokee will endeavor to make your visit in our midst a pleasant experience. Let us have fun and recreation to-

Pahokee Harbor May Bring New Economic Era

Development of the new breakwater and harbor at Pahokee opens still another door to the economic expansion of Okeechobee land.

The first protected harbor ever built on the nation's second-largest fresh water lake, Pahokee's harbor was built with a keen eye to the ultimate potential development of commercial boat traffic.

Pahokee Harbor is situated immediately on the landward side of the Inland Waterway course from the mouth of the St. Lucie Canal at Port Mayaca, around the coast to Clewiston and Moore Haven, where it empties into the Calahooosa-hatchee River.

Accessibility of the Harbor to vehicular traffic makes it easily available for commercial use. It is but a city block from U.S. Highway 441.

It is expected that Pahokee

Harbor will be used as a shipping point for loads of winter vegetables to the Port of Palm Beach, for trans-shipment to the Bahamas, and for the shipment of fertilizer to Cuba and Caribbean countries.

The breakwater is approximately 1,200 feet in length and can accommodate about 50 boats with dockage. Since downtown Pahokee with its modern shopping facilities is a block away, Pahokee Harbor is expected to develop into an important overnight stop for pleasure boats plying the Atlantic Ocean-Gulf of Mexico route.

Natural facilities for launching motor boats from auto trailers make Pahokee Harbor a center for small boat enthusiasts, too.

Already the Riviera Beach Boat Club has been overnight guest of Pahokee Boat Club, and as Pahokee Harbor's advantages become known, it is expected boat enthusiasts will congregate at the harbor from communities around Lake Okeechobee and from all over Florida, as well.

me River to Kissimmee, its destination.

As the remunerative catfishing industry developed on Lake Okeechobee after 1900, more boats were in evidence. Some, large enough to haul 10 tons of refrigerated fish, made regular trips to Ft. Myers.

The catfish industry was Okeechobeeland's first "bonanza" industry, which saw the city of Okeechobee develop as its capital with several commercial fisheries. Railroad facilities there enabled quick refrigeration shipment of famous Lake Okeechobee catfish to northern and midwestern markets. In the decade following 1915, it has been estimated that the annual catfish gross on the lake averaged $1,000,000.

Floods of 1926 and 1928 diminished the catfish population, and factors such as sportsman-commercial fisherman hassles, modern roads and competition combined to throttle the commercial catfish industry.

That Lake Okeechobee is being "discovered" and "re-discovered" by Florida's and the nation's sports-minded men and women cannot be denied. And Lake Okeechobee's future as one of the country's outstanding all-around sports meccas appears to be imminent.

For all types of wild life exist here. In addition to catfish, the famous Big Mouth Black Bass is found in abundance in Lake Okeechobee. So are speckled perch, bream and a variety of pan fish.

Wild life abounds, including the deer, panther, bobcat, black bear, gray fox, opossum, raccoon, otter, squirrel and rabbit.
